Resinous Flooring & Vertical Systems for Manufacturing

Maintaining a clean and safe production area is a constant struggle within manufacturing plants. Facility managers strive to keep up with the incessant demands of floor and wall maintenance within their workshops, helping to ensure high production uptime and minimize downtime. When production is down, the bottom line is also down. Manufacturing production facility managers seek workshop flooring solutions that offer high uptime, excellent chemical resistance and easy maintenance.

LATICRETE resinous flooring coatings pros understand the requirements faced within demanding manufacturer production environments and workshop flooring. These spaces require daily cleaning and maintenance, sometimes multiple times per day. Not just any flooring solution can handle the demands of such difficult floor spaces.

Specialized shop floor coating systems by LATICRETE offer your production environment and workshop floors fast return to service, high uptime, and safe, nonslip characteristics. They also make floor and wall maintenance easy.

SPARTACOTE™ Resinous Flooring & Vertical Systems have been used successfully in a number of manufacturing applications including:

- Loading dock flooring
